A MESSAGE FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Every good wish goes with each member of the Class of 1963 for future success and happiness. Whatever your fortune may be in this space-shrunken world, it is hoped that your Alma Mater may have served you well.

As the world of work or study or military service claims your time, interest and attention, it is well to remember that competence, loyalty and integrity have their own rewards and satisfactions.

PAUL S. CHRISTMAN, B.S., M.S., Ph.D

Dedication

It is with genuine gratitude that we, the class of 1963, dedicate this yearbook to Miss Hoy, who for years has given her full and capable support toward making the Blue and Gold a success. We are sure she will continue to be a perpetual source of guidance and inspiration to the students of Haven High as she has been to us in our senior-high years.

Appreciation

We the class of '63, wish to express our sincere appreciation to Mr. Edward Brown for his interest in and understanding of the students. We feel fortunate in having had this outstanding instructor for our class advisor.

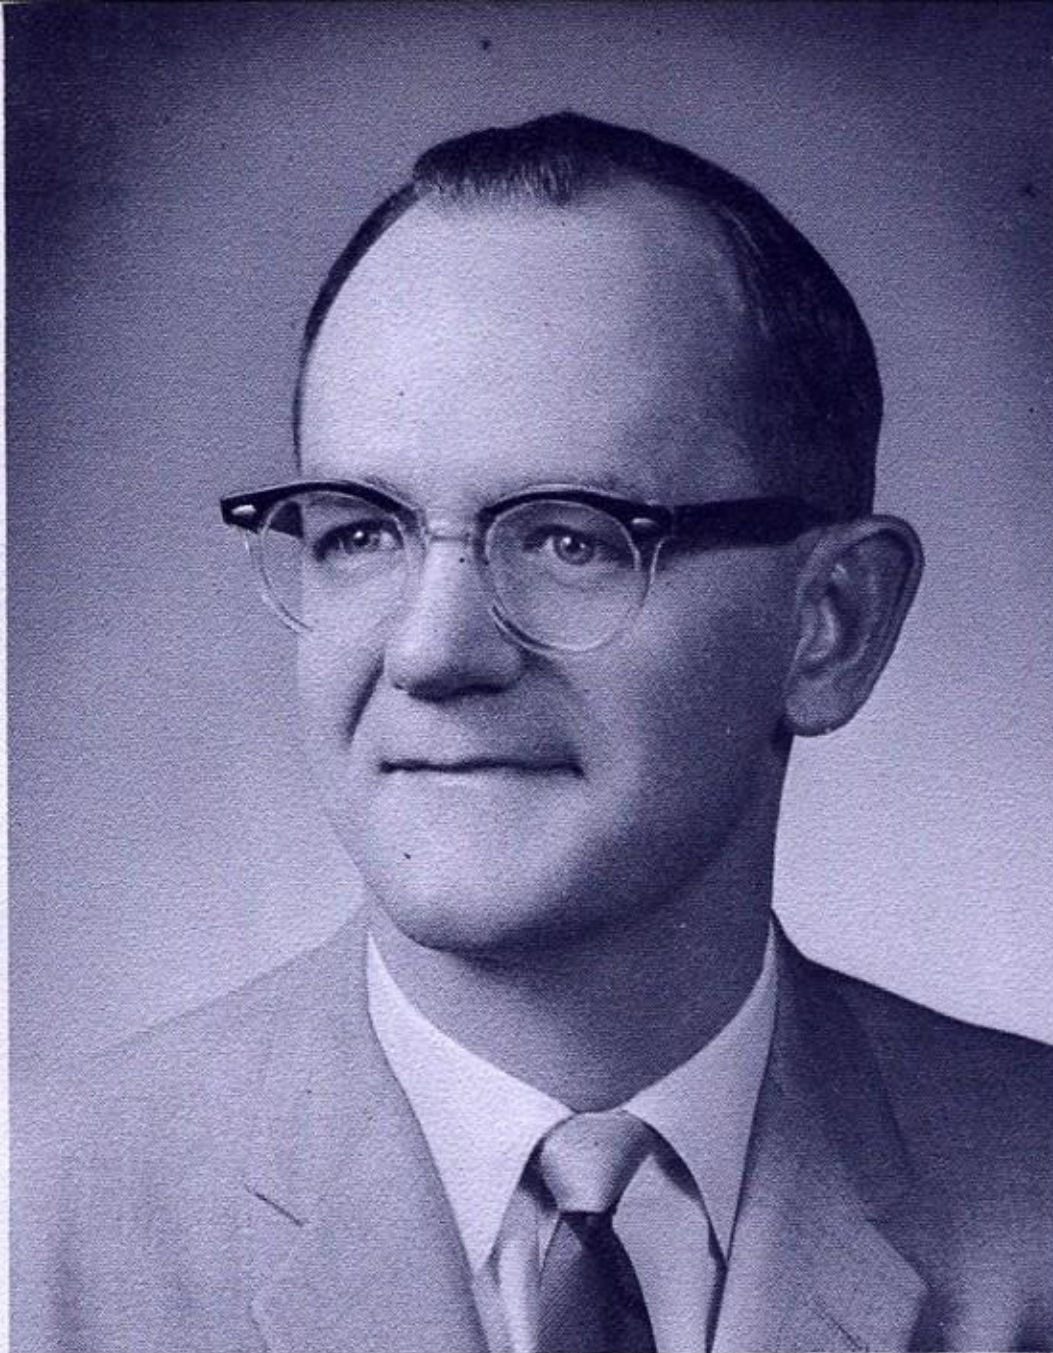

FACULTY

PRINCIPAL

To the Class of '63

The classroom has always remained the center around which high school life revolves. There are, however, a large number of interests that associate themselves with student life.

It would be difficult to enumerate all of the extra-curricular activities. Each has its place. Each affords rare opportunities for self-adjustment.

For many years, these extra-curricular functions were regarded as competitors of classroom and the learning process. With the broadening conception of what education should mean this idea of competition has disappeared. It is realized that there are talents which must be provided with opportunities to develop outside the classroom.

There should never be a skimping of effort in the performance of any tasks; yet, at the same time, any student who has not taken part in the extra-curricular life of the high school, when the opportunity is afforded, has missed elements which go to promote a rounded preparation for life itself and future educational ventures.

I wish to congratulate everyone that appears within this annual and to express the sincere hope that each one may find in life the deepest satisfaction and the richest experiences. May lessons learned in our high school serve as a worthy preparation for a life that will nobly perform all of the obligations which accompany opportunities and privileges.
